FEMALE SIZE AND FIT GUIDE

A Superior Fit Matters

It's vitally important to ensure body armor is properly sized. A ballistic armor vest that fits properly will provide maximum comfort, mobility, performance and protection. A vest that doesn't fit may fail in any or all of these categories, with potentially life-threatening consequences.

Every custom RISE carrier has been engineered to accommodate full range of motion while providing premium safety and performance. Simply follow the step-by-step sizing process for a superior fit.

Communication is Paramount

Open and on-going dialogue between the sizer and officer helps achieve the best-fit vest and a comfortable experience. If the officer has worn body armor in the past, be sure to discuss any areas of satisfaction, concern or improvement prior to sizing.

A few pointers before getting started:

1. Read this guide in its entirety prior to sizing. Watch the RISE female sizing video on our Vimeo channel to see a detailed sizing experience in action.
2. Use a cloth measuring tape for all measurements. Pull the tape so it is snug, but not tight to the skin. For chest and girth measurements, check that the tape does not run high or low, but is parallel to the ground.
3. Always have another person do the measuring to ensure accuracy. Conducting solo measurements will compromise the integrity of the measurements.
4. Take measurements wearing standard active-duty undergarments including a bra, undershirt, uniform shirt, uniform pants and complete duty belt with equipment loaded in all holsters and holders.
5. Take and record actual measurements. Do not round up or down.

Please measure carefully. Inaccurate measurements may require size modifications which could incur additional expense and delay delivery.

Thank you for measuring with care! You will soon be protected by a custom ballistic armor vest engineered to offer you a superior fit. Once we have received your sizing form, we will email your estimated delivery date.

1 Full Chest/Bust Measurement

INCHES CUP SIZE

Wrap the measuring tape under the the officers arms and around the widest part of her chest. Check that the tape is parallel to the ground. Ask the officer to take two deep breaths. At the apex of their second breath, adjust the measuring tape and record that measurement.

2 Total Girth Measurement

INCHES

Wrap the measuring tape around the officer's waist. Have the officer place an index finger inside her belly button, and rest the measuring tape on top of her index finger. Check that the tape is parallel to the ground. Ask the officer to take two deep breaths. At the apex of their second breath, record that measurement.

8 Select Side Panel Overlap: (check one box)

0" 1" 2" (recommended)

Overlap other than 2" is at officer's discretion; note and sign box 4 on page 2 if 0" or 1" is checked.

3 Back Panel Length Measurement

INCHES

Measure from the base of the uniform collar on the back, down to the top of the duty belt. Indicate the location one half inch up from the top of the duty belt. Work up from there, stopping in half-inch increments, and use your thumb to gently indicate the increments. Confirm the officer's comfort level at every half-inch increment until she is satisfied with the back panel length. Record that measurement.

SEATED

Standard seated position, relaxed upper body:

4 Front Bust Upper Measurement (clavicle to bust)

INCHES

Place the end of the soft measuring tape at the bottom edge of the clavicle. Have the officer pull the tape down to her nipple, and record that measurement.

6 Upper Chest Measurement

INCHES

With the officer seated and arms raised to 90 degrees, measure the distance between her armpits, and record that measurement.

5 Front Bust Lower Measurement (bust to gun belt)

INCHES

Place the end of the measuring tape on the nipple and measure down to the top of the duty belt. Indicate the location one half inch up from the top of the duty belt. Work up from there, stopping in half-inch increments, and use your thumb to gently indicate the increments. Confirm the officer's comfort level at every half-inch increment until she is satisfied with the front panel length. Record that measurement.

7 Apex to Apex Measurement

INCHES

Have the officer place the soft measuring tape across her nipple line, and record that measurement. This measurement is critical to ensure that the structured cups are fitted in the correct position for each individual officer.
